

CUI Roundtable Breakfast Seminar:

Rising Energy Costs: What are the Prospects for Cities?

September 14, 2006

Toronto, September 11, 2006 – Many energy analysts project a disturbing future for world oil production. Within 15 years our urban economies could be dealing with real fuel prices that are four times what we pay today. What are the implications for municipal governments, businesses, institutions and the public as a whole? In response to much citizen input on the topic, the City of Hamilton commissioned Richard Gilbert to identify the implications for the City and for Hamilton generally. Come to the first roundtable breakfast seminar of the season and find out what could be in store for urban Ontario.

WHAT: The Canadian Urban Institute's Roundtable Breakfast Series offers informal debates on the leading urban issues of the day.

Full Breakfast details at Click here

WHO: Presentation, questions and answers - 8:00 am – 9:45 am.

Speaker: Richard Gilbert, Consultant on Urban Issues

WHEN: Thursday, September 14, 2006
7:45 - 9:45 am

WHERE: Metro Hall
Room 308/309, 55 John Street, Toronto, ON

MEDIA WELCOME!