CUI Roundtable Breakfast Seminar:

Getting our Act Together on Heritage

Toronto, October 25, 2004 – The power to stop demolition of heritage buildings has long been a goal for heritage activists. With proposed changes to Ontario's Heritage Act, is heritage finally going to become part of mainstream development? How deep is the support for a stronger municipal role? Will the new Act be effective if there is no money to take decisive notion? How will changes being considered at the federal level affect the heritage scene? Get answers to these questions and more from our expert panel.

WHAT: The Canadian Urban Institute's Roundtable Breakfast Series offers informal debates on the leading urban issues of the day.
