City of Cambridge Contaminated Sites Grant Program
City of Cambridge

Wellington Square is the first project of note to take advantage of the City of Cambridge Contaminated Sites Grant Program. Wellington Square is an attractive townhouse complex of 82 units in Galt City Centre on lands that were once occupied by a foundry. Prior to cleanup, the lands were contaminated with foundry sand and heavy metals.

The first model homes were constructed in 2000. The last units were completed in September 2003. There is widespread agreement in Cambridge that Wellington Square has fulfilled all of the objectives of the Program.
